CA524 OBJECT ORIENTED PROGRAMMING

Prerequisite: CA521 or special approval from instructor

Aim: To introduce students to objects and object oriented concepts

Syllabus:

Abstract data types, abstraction, encapsulation, objects and object hierarchies, inheritance, polymorphism, virtual functions. Differences between other programming paradigms and oop. Examples and programming exercises.

Books: To be identified.